LONG BIOGRAPHY

(FOR BACKGROUND INFORMATION ONLY – NOT FOR USE PUBLICLY)

Gabor Maté (pronunciation: GAH-bor MAH-tay Gabor Maté M.D., C.M., is a Canadian physician (retired), public speaker and bestselling author of five books, published internationally in 40 languages on five continents. His book on addiction, the award-winning In the Realm of Hungry Ghosts: Close Encounters with Addiction, is used as a text in many institutions of higher learning in Canada and the U.S. His most recent book, The Myth of Normal: Trauma, Illness and Healing in a Toxic Culture, has been and continues to be a #1 Canadian bestseller and was 19 weeks a New York Times bestseller.

After two decades as a family doctor and palliative care director, for twelve years Gabor worked in Vancouver's Downtown Eastside with patients challenged by hard-core drug addiction, mental illness and HIV, including at Vancouver Supervised Injection Site, North America's first such facility. His other interests encompass childhood developmental issues, ADHD, mind/body health, trauma and parenting. He is in constant demand as a speaker internationally and has addressed judicial bodies in Canada, the U.S. and Australia on the links between trauma, addictions, and dysfunctional behaviors. He has worked with many Indigenous communities around these issues.

He has received an Outstanding Alumnus Award from Simon Fraser University and an Honorary Degree (Laws) from the University of Northern British Columbia. For his groundbreaking medical work and writings, he has been given the Order of Canada, and the Civic Merit award from his home city of Vancouver. For his latest book, The Myth of Normal: Trauma, Illness and Healing in a Toxic Culture Gabor won the Vine Award for Canadian Jewish Literature in the Non-Fiction Category.

A film based on his life's work, The Wisdom of Trauma, has been viewed by over 10 million people internationally and has been translated into twenty languages. It is shown regularly in many institutions, including schools and prisons, in Canada, the U.S., and abroad. www.thewisdomoftrauma.com. His therapeutic method, Compassionate Inquiry, has been, in the past three years, studied by over 3,000 health care providers in 80 countries.

TESTIMONIALS

“Gabor Mat’és connections – between the intensely personal and the global, the spiritual and the medical, the psychological and the political – are bold, wise and deeply moral.”

Naomi Klein, Author & Award-winning Journalist

“Maté’s resonant, unflinching analysis of addiction today shatters the assumptions underlying our War on Drugs.”

Norm Stamper, Retired Former Police Chief of Seattle & Member, Law Enforcement Against Prohibition

“Gabor Maté is a common-sense doctor and truth-teller. By looking at causes and their effects, he helps you find your way home.”

Jamie Lee Curtis, “Author, Activist, Alcoholic”

“I think a big part of gaining insight into substance abuse is an examination of its underlying psychological and emotional components. This is at the core of Dr. Mat’és approach.”

Rob Reiner, Filmmaker, Actor, Producer
